Kuwait Peace Is Sighted by Arab Leader

KUWAIT (AP) — Arab League Secretary-General Abdel Khalek Hassouna conferred with Kuwait's ruler today about Iraq's claim to the oil-rich little sheikdom and said he thought a peaceful solution could be found to the crisis.

Hassouna, who came to Kuwait after talks with Iraqi leaders in Baghdad, said Iraq would "definitely not" attack Kuwait. But British forces kept a round-the-clock watch on the border.

Hundreds of Kuwaitis cheered Hassouna as he drove Tuesday night to the palace of Sheikh Abdullah as-Salim as-Sabah, who requested British help after Premier Abdel Karim Kassem claimed Kuwait and its vast oil reserves as Iraqi territory.

The 10-nation Arab League, meeting in Cairo, decided to postpone until July 12 consideration of Kuwait's request for admission to the league. Nine of the states agreed while Saudi Arabia—Kuwait's chief backer in the league—abstained. Iraq has said it will oppose Kuwait's admission.

The British here feel that if the league fails to solve the Kuwait crisis, they may have to hand over the sheikdom's defense to the United Nations. The British defense force has been welcomed in Kuwait, but there are fears a prolonged stay would allow Iraq to whip up anti-British feeling throughout the Middle East.

British Air Marshal Sir Charles Elworthy now has about 10,000 British regulars under his command here plus 10,000 Kuwaiti regulars, desert tribesmen and Saudi Arabian volunteers.

Castro Raps U.S. Embargo On Foodstuffs

HAVANA (AP)—Fidel Castro claims the United States is trying to force Cubans to go hungry by embargoing food exports to Cuba. In a nationwide television-radio address Tuesday night, the prime minister accused the United States again of economic aggression and said the Soviet Union had offered Cuba 10,000 tons of food to make up for a U.S. shipment of 12 carloads that was stopped last week.

(Castro did not explain the circumstances of the embargo on the food shipment. A Florida court ordered the shipment seized to help satisfy a $429,000 bill the Cuban government tourist agency owes a Miami advertising agency.) Castro called the food seizure the latest act of "imperialist aggression" and announced Cubans would have to cut down on food imports. Cuba has depended on the United States for most of its food, but Castro said Cuba would buy no more U.S. food, imports of which, he said, had run to $20 million a year.

The prime minister announced that Cubans, who normally consume about 40 pounds of food per person annually, would be rationed one pound of oil and one pound of food a month.

Union Approves Hoffa Integrity

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The Teamsters convention today shouted approval of a resolution affirming belief in the integrity of union president James R. Hoffa despite a series of court charges and accusations against him.

The resolution reviewed indictments and charges against Hoffa leveled in Senate investigations. It said that despite all this the delegates expressed confidence in his integrity and "high devotion to duty."

The second runnerup spot was awarded to Dorothea Kutler, Circleville.

Mrs. Woodward and her two attendants were selected from a field of 21 entries. The judging was directed by Mr. and Mrs. Larry Varble and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Grigg, all of Circleville. Grigg is manager of the Circleville General Electric plant and Varble manager of the local Ralston Purina Co.

Miss Woodward was presented a wrist watch. A cash award of $25 went to Miss Palmer and Miss Kutler was presented a season ticket to the Ashville Swimming Club.

The three awards were presented by Miss Joy Trone, Ashville's Miss South Central Ohio Queen who will participate in the Miss Ohio Pageant at Mansfield starting July 26.

Ohio Mother Dies Trying To Save Tot

WEST HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—A Shaker Heights, Ohio, mother, trying to save her 7-year-old daughter, drowned Tuesday in Long Island Sound. The child was rescued by her aunt.

The victim, Mrs. Esther Jud, 41, swam to rescue her daughter, Virginia, after the youngster began to drift away from a sailboat which the family was in and had capsized. Mrs. Jud, however, weakened and her sister, Dr. Virginia Stuermer of Hamden, went to help both but managed only to grab the girl.

The victim was the wife of Dr. Gerald J. Jud, director of the Commission on Evangelism for the United Church of Christ.

Russels Point Quiet after Youths Riot

RUSSELS POINT, Ohio (AP)—Holiday vacationers are home and officials of this resort community on the shore of Indian Lake are cleaning up after a July 4th that had more fireworks than they had planned.

The unexpected explosions began shortly after midnight Monday when a group of young people began fighting and throwing tables and chairs around in a beer garden.

The crowd, which was estimated at between 400 and 1,000, blocked off Ohio 366, the main street in Russells Point.

The demonstrations finally ended, at least for the time being, about 2:30 a.m. with the arrival of 20 Ohio highway patrolmen and auxiliaries and a wetting down by local fire department hoses.

Seven youths were brought before Mayor Gene Gooding in an unusual night court. Six were fined and released. The seventh, whose name was not disclosed, was jailed.

Shortly after noon Tuesday, the youths began to assemble again. This time, however, officials were ready.

More than 40 patrolmen and auxiliaries, nearly the entire Logan County sheriff's department, local police and the fire department blocked off the highway and closed all business along the main street.

The authorities stood their ground, and after about an hour and a half of looking down the nozzles of fire hoses, the over-exuberant vacationers drifted away and headed for their homes.

Mayor Gooding isn't too sure what brought on the disturbance. He said the youths, most of them college students, apparently had been drinking beer, and, when the drinking spots closed for the night, the young people became roudy.

"It's just a case of a lot of young fellows with nothing better to do," Gooding said. He added that authorities could find no particular ringleaders and those who were arrested were defying police officers.

Russells Point, on the southern shore of Indian Lake, normally has a population of 1,100, but during vacation time the population balloons to more than 10,000.

Speed-Up in U.S. Planning Expected in Berlin Crisis

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy's return to Washington today was expected to bring a speed-up in U.S. planning of new moves to counter Soviet threats against West Berlin.

Possible steps include sending one or more Army divisions to reinforce the five divisions of U.S. troops already serving with NATO forces in Germany. Some sea and air forces may be deployed. A wide range of other actions is under consideration.

Development of detailed plans was ordered by the President last week before he left for his July 4 holiday at Hyannis Port, Mass. One of the tasks awaiting him on his return to the capital was the review of the progress of this work. Some plans are expected to be ready for consideration by the

Savings Bank Announces Plans for Drive-In Facility

The Circleville Savings Bank today announced plans for future expansion in Circleville.

Expansion plans call for a modern drive-in facility to be located in the building now housing the Cussins & Fearn Store, 122 N. Court St. The Cussins & Fearn Store is scheduled to move operations in the fall to 129 W. Main St. where the W. T. Grant firm is presently located.

J. C. Van Pelt, speaking on behalf of the Savings Bank, said major work on the new drive-in location will not start until Cussins & Fearn has moved to its new quarters in the fall. He said actual remodeling work probably will not begin until spring.

Van Pelt added that no completion date has been set for the drive-in facility. He explained that a competent engineer will be hired to work out details concerning structural design and other pertinent requirements for the new operation.

THE building, located across the alley from the Savings Bank at 118 N. Court St., formerly was a part of the F. W. Sieverts estate. The upstairs portion of the building houses the C. F. Repleg Con-

Building Burns At Laurelville

A storage building adjacent to the Laurelville Locker Plant was destroyed by fire early today.

Laurelville firemen Dwight Eveland and Orville Kempton said they received the alarm at about 2 a. m. The Adelphi and Tarlton Fire Departments were also summoned to the scene.

The combined firefighting units spent about three hours battling the blaze in order to preserve the locker plant.

Firemen said the storage building loss was estimated at $500. Eveland said a "good guess" for the cause of the fire was a holiday prankster who threw a firecracker into the building. He reported that the structure had once been used as a garage and there was some oil and grease in the building.

Eveland said the firecracker evidently ignited some oil soaked timber.

Commission Fails in Attempt To Aid Children's Council

A move by Pickaway County's Board of Commissioners to assist the financially hard-pressed Pickaway County Council for Exceptional (retarded) Children has failed.

County Prosecutor Robert Huffer told the county fathers during an extended regular meeting Monday they could not authorize the inclusion of a .05-mill levy on the November ballot.

Huffer, in explaining the prohibitive laws to the Commission, ended, at least for the near future, the Council's attempt to bolster their program with county funds.

Delegations from the public service group had appeared before the Commissioners previously to request that the board attempt to relieve part of the Council's economic burden with public tax monies.

IN ANOTHER important action, the Commissioners agreed by a unanimous ballot to advertise a hearing for the tentatively adopted 1962 county budget for 2 p. m. July 17.

The appropriations airing will be open to the public. By unanimous votes as well, the Commission approved: A payment of $10.50 to the

Mac Sees Global War as Suicide

MANILA (AP)—General of the Army Douglas MacArthur told the Philippine Congress today that he-and not Heinrich Himmler—devised the macabre plan to trade the lives of a million Jews for trucks badly needed by the Nazi armies in 1944.

"Global war has become a Frankenstein to destroy both sides," said the 81-year-old leader of World War II and the Korean War.

"No longer is it a weapon of adventure—the short cut to international power. If you lose, you are annihilated. If you win, you stand only to lose.

"No longer does it possess even the chance of the winner of a duel—it contains now only the germs of double suicide."

Road Slaughter Hits All-Time High in Nation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ohio's traffic death toll over the Fourth of July holiday weekend was among the nation's highest, and the 28 persons killed on the state's highways exceeded the 6 dead predicted by the Ohio Department of Highway Safety.

Besides the traffic deaths, 16 other persons perished during the 102-hour long holiday which began at 6 p. m. Friday and closed at midnight Tuesday.

The toll included one man who was drowned in a boating accident, eight others who drowned in non-boating mishaps and seven in miscellaneous accidents.

Over a sample non-holiday period June 16-20, the death count was 15 traffic, 4 boating deaths, 6 non-boating drownings and 7 miscellaneous fatalities.

Over the 78-hour July 4th weekend last year 34 persons were killed on Ohio's roads—the highest state toll for the holiday in recent years.

The nationwide highway slaughter picture was like Ohio's — record-breaking for an Independence Day weekend.

The nationwide tally stands at 508 killed in traffic, 63 in boating mishaps, 204 by drowning and 148 miscellaneous for a total of 923.

The over-all accident death toll, which included a heavy loss of life in the water in drownings and boating mishaps, reached an all-time high for any holiday period.

Belated reports of violent deaths during the four-day period which ended at midnight Tuesday (local time) boosted the traffic death toll past the previous record of 491. That mark was set in the four-day observance in 1950.

The over-all holiday toll surpassed the previous record high of 884 set in the four-day Christmas period of 1956. Earlier, this year's over-all mark had set a record for a Fourth of July holiday period. The previous high was 805 set during a three-day Independence Day holiday period in 1955.

The death rate on the highways slackened late Tuesday. Council officials said the homeward bound traffic was the heaviest in history for the final hours of any holiday. They said the fatality rate dropped from an hourly average of between five and six to about two to three.

The council, in a preholiday statement, had estimated a traffic death toll of 450.

This year's Fourth of July holiday traffic count compared to 462 for the recent four-day Memorial Day period, a record for that holiday. On last year's three-day observance of Independence Day traffic deaths totaled 442.

Three deaths in fireworks were reported during the count of violent accident deaths from 6 p. m. last Friday to midnight Tuesday, a period of 102 hours. That was the largest total since four died in 1954.

For comparative purposes, The Associated Press made a survey of accidents in a non-holiday period of 102 hours, from 6 p. m. Friday June 16 to midnight Tuesday June 20. The count showed: 362 traffic; 33 boating; 80 drownings; 99 miscellaneous, a total of 574.

Commission Fails in Attempt To Aid Children's Council

A move by Pickaway County's Board of Commissioners to assist the financially hard-pressed Pickaway County Council for Exceptional (retarded) Children has failed.

County Prosecutor Robert Huffer told the county fathers during an extended regular meeting Monday they could not authorize the inclusion of a .05-mill levy on the November ballot.

Huffer, in explaining the prohibitive laws to the Commission, ended, at least for the near future, the Council's attempt to bolster their program with county funds.

Delegations from the public service group had appeared before the Commissioners previously to request that the board attempt to relieve part of the Council's economic burden with public tax monies.

IN ANOTHER important action, the Commissioners agreed by a unanimous ballot to advertise a hearing for the tentatively adopted 1962 county budget for 2 p. m. July 17.

The appropriations airing will be open to the public.

By unanimous votes as well, the Commission approved:

Athens Beating Victim Dies of His Injuries

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Charles J. Crawford Jr., 29, a high school teacher of Gibsonburg, Sandusky County, victim of a beating in Athens last Wednesday, died in University Hospital today.

Crawford, a Spanish and history teacher, was in Athens attending a conference at Ohio University when he was beaten. He had undergone brain surgery at the hospital here.

Police said Crawford's car was involved in a minor traffic accident at an intersection and that occupants of the other car followed Crawford's to a university dormitory. Crawford was struck on the head and his assailants fled.

Jerry Linscott, 20, and Gerald Ulbrich, 24, both of Athens, were returned to Athens from Point Pleasant, W. Va., last Thursday to face assault charges. Officials are expected to confer on whether additional charges are to be filed, now that the victim has died.

Road Slaughter Hits All-Time High in Nation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Ohio's traffic death toll over the Fourth of July holiday weekend was among the nation's highest, and the 28 persons killed on the state's highways exceeded the 6 dead predicted by the Ohio Department of Highway Safety.

Besides the traffic deaths, 16 other persons perished during the 102-hour long holiday which began at 6 p.m. Friday and closed at midnight Tuesday.

The toll included one man who was drowned in a boating accident, eight others who drowned in non-boating mishaps and seven in miscellaneous accidents.

Over a sample non-holiday period June 16-20, the death count was 15 traffic, 4 boating deaths, 6 non-boating drownings and 7 miscellaneous fatalities.

Over the 78-hour July 4th weekend last year 34 persons were killed on Ohio's roads—the highest state toll for the holiday in recent years.

The nationwide highway slaughter picture was like Ohio's — record-breaking for an Independence Day weekend.

The nationwide tally stands at 508 killed in traffic, 63 in boating mishaps, 204 by drowning and 148 miscellaneous for a total of 923.

The over-all accident death toll, which included a heavy loss of life in the water in drownings and boating mishaps, reached an all-time high for any holiday period.

Belated reports of violent deaths during the four-day period which ended at midnight Tuesday (local time) boosted the traffic death toll past the previous record of 491. That mark was set in the four-day observance in 1950.

The over-all holiday toll surpassed the previous record high of 884 set in the four-day Christmas period of 1956. Earlier, this year's over-all mark had set a record for a Fourth of July holiday period. The previous high was 805 set during a three-day Independence Day holiday period in 1955.

The death rate on the highways slackened late Tuesday. Council officials said the homeward bound traffic was the heaviest in history for the final hours of any holiday. They said the fatality rate dropped from an hourly average of between five and six to about two to three.

The council, in a preholiday statement, had estimated a traffic death toll of 450.

This year's Fourth of July holiday traffic count compared to 462 for the recent four-day Memorial Day period, a record for that holiday. On last year's three-day observance of Independence Day traffic deaths totaled 442.

Three deaths in fireworks were reported during the count of violent accident deaths from 6 p.m. last Friday to midnight Tuesday, a period of 102 hours. That was the largest total since four died in 1954.

For comparative purposes, The Associated Press made a survey of accidents in a non-holiday period of 102 hours, from 6 p.m. Friday June 16 to midnight Tuesday June 20. The count showed: 362 traffic; 33 boating; 80 drownings; 99 miscellaneous, a total of 574.

Newly-Merged Church Eyes New President

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A brisk, two-way contest shaped up today for the presidency of the newly constituted United Church of Christ, its highest administrative office.

Rank-and-file forces put the Rev. Dr. James E. Wagner, of Philadelphia, into the race, challenging a nominating committee's choice, the Rev. Dr. Ben M. Herbst, of Norwood, Ohio.

The balloting comes this afternoon, a day after the constitution of the new 2-million-member denomination was declared in effect.

It unites the Congregational Christian Churches and the Evangelical and Reformed Church, the first merger in the country of denominations of different national origins and ecclesiastical structure.

Enactment of the constitution climaxed 21 years of preliminary steps.

Delegates moved quickly to elect Maine Supreme Court Judge Donald W. Webber as moderator, the church's top titular officer, who serves for two years. The conflict came in naming the more powerful, continuing executive.

Both presidential candidates were drawn from the E. and R. wing, a church that Dr. Wagner, 61, has headed for eight years. But a nominating committee bypassed him Tuesday in naming Dr. Herbst, a parish pastor.

Home Runaway Slated for New Residence

John Sprouse, 15, one of three boys who ran away from the Pickaway County Children's Home almost two weeks ago, will be placed in a yet-to-be determined interim foster home, Ralph Starkey, juvenile probation officer, said today.

Starkey said the boy, apprehended by city police late last week, is being confined to the county jail until a suitable temporary home is located.

The boy, who remains under the authority of the county Child Welfare Board, will be placed in the foster residence while an investigation into "neglected child" charges is carried out.

Starkey said Juvenile Judge Guy G. Cline in Charlottesville, Va. for a military training session at the University of Virginia, has been informed of the youth's apprehension. Cline had earlier ordered the Child Welfare Board

Newly-Merged Church Eyes New President

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A brisk, two-way contest shaped up today for the presidency of the newly constituted United Church of Christ, its highest administrative office.

Beverly Hills Night Spot Is Hit by State

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — The plush Beverly Hills night spot and two other northern Kentucky establishments have been cited on state charges of allowing gambling.
A 1953 graduate of Circleville High School, Mason worked several summers at the Circleville Lamp Plant of General Electric while attending Kenyon College where he was graduated in 1955 with a BA degree in political science.
Following graduation from Kenyon he studied one summer at the University of Mexico City prior to entering the United States Army in September of 1958.
On completion of his two-year military tour of duty, 18 months of which were spent at SHAPE Headquarters in Paris, France, Mason joined General Electric as a sales trainee in the Large Lamp Department at Nela Park, Cleveland. He transferred to his present position on June 26.
The Alcoholic Beverage Control Board cited Beverly Hills, Inc., Southgate, and Harold Marks, Newport, to appear at hearings July 25 and Saul Polinsky, of the Embassy Bar, to appear July 24.
The board recently intensified law enforcement in Campbell County on orders of Gov. Bert Combs.
Beverly Hills was charged with setting up and operating gambling games such as dice, cards, and roulette.
Marks was charged with permitting gambling and setting up more than one bar at which whisky was sold.
The Embassy Bar was charged with operating a handbook and with permitting a female to act as bartender.

City Council Has Abbreviated Meet

City Council met for one of its shorter sessions last night.
The July 4 holiday apparently took its toll as only three Councilmen were present for the meeting. Four are needed to make a quorum.
President Richard Penn called the meeting to order. The only business transacted was a motion passed to excuse the absent members and the move to adjourn.
The next meeting will be on the regular scheduled July 18 date.

Home Runaway Slated for New Residence

John Sprouse, 15, one of three boys who ran away from the Pickaway County Children's Home almost two weeks ago, will be placed in a yet-to-be determined interim foster home, Ralph Starkey, juvenile probation officer, said today.
Starkey said the boy, apprehended by city police late last week, is being confined to the county jail until a suitable temporary home is located.
The boy, who remains under the authority of the county Child Welfare Board, will be placed in the foster residence while an investigation into "neglected child" charges is carried out.
Starkey said Juvenile Judge Guy G. Cline in Charlottesville, Va. for a military training session at the University of Virginia, has been informed of the youth's apprehension. Cline had earlier ordered the Child Welfare Board's authority terminated over the two boys who ran away with Sprouse. They were captured a few hours after leaving the home.
Starkey indicated that Judge Robert U. Hastings of the Fairfield County Probate - Juvenile Court, sitting by assignment here during Judge Cline's absence, will not be involved in the proceedings.

Berlin Looms Large

A threat which has the potentiality of developing into an ugly crisis in the near future figures prominently in debate in Congress. Berlin looms large in the landscape and once again the timorous ask, is it worth fighting for?

The debate was provoked by a suggestion from Senator Mansfield that Berlin be declared a "free city" and that its neutrality be guaranteed by both East and West. Such suggestions fall pleasantly on the ears of those who ask nothing but release from present tension, while forgetting all the experiences of the past which have proved that to give way on one demand is only to create another and greater one.

Premier Khrushchev insists that there be a European settlement this year, including a peace treaty in which the West recognizes Communist East Germany. Following this peace treaty the West would have to negotiate on Berlin directly with the East German government, with, of course, the Soviet Union's armed might standing behind it.

The East German government has made it clear that far from easing Allied access to Berlin, it would restrict it still more. In addition, it insists on possession of Tempelhof airfield which was the Allies' gateway to West Berlin during the blockade of 1948.

This demand gives a clear idea of the shape of things to come if the Allies back down and agree to a neutral Berlin as proposed by Senator Mansfield. A Berlin denuded of Western troops and isolated in the midst of communist territory would not long survive in neutralism against surrounding pressures.

These pressures would not only be economic. They would include those well-equipped troops of the East German army which are seen in May Day parade pictures, goose-stepping in seemingly endless columns alongside Soviet-made tanks. A decision to neutralize Berlin would, in effect, be a victory for Mr. Khrushchev. Inevitably the West is committed to an exercise in "brinkmanship" which will demand strong nerves. The alternative would be to grant Khrushchev another peaceful conquest in his unceasing struggle for world revolution.

Estimates of An American

NEW YORK (AP)—The free-born American yesterday celebrated nearly two centuries of uninterrupted independence.

It is proud of his own ideals and feels his own political system is the best ever invented—views not shared by all the rest of earth's inhabitants. Just what kind of a person is an American, and what does his country stand for? Over the years he has received just about as many brickbats as bouquets, but has managed to survive both blame and praise.

Here are some memorable estimates of him and his ways: "I am willing to love all mankind except an American. They are a race of convicts and ought to be thankful for anything we allow them short of hanging."—Samuel Johnson, 1775.

"... knavery seems to be so much the striking feature of its (America's) inhabitants that it may not in the end be an evil that they will become aliens to this kingdom."—George III of England, 1782.

"All the men in America make money their pursuit."—Richard Parkinson, 1805.

U.N. Plans for Red China

It is being planned by some very astute planners in the State Department to get Red China into the General Assembly of the United Nations. Actually, there have been discussions with some other countries about the prospect of working out a Two Chinas scheme at the next session of the United Nations.

The astute planners do not expect Red China to accept what Mao Tse-tung would be an ignominious position. Red China wants China's permanent seat on the Security Council which would give to Red China the power of the Veto. It is very doubtful if Red China will settle for less. Certainly Mao Tse-tung would not agree to be limited to the General Assembly while Chiang Kai-shek's representative sits on the Security Council.

The scheme then is for the Western Powers to make this proposition to Red China; that Red China will inevitably reject the offer; that it will please India and the neutrals that the offer was made to Red China; it will leave Soviet Russia without an excuse for quarrelling over this issue; it would give Red China a bad reputation because Red China rejected the offer.

Of course, the Nationalist Chinese government on Formosa would lose face and its position throughout Asia would be reduced to a nullity. This does not bother the schemers who feel that they are important planners of mankind's future. They feel that Formosa ought to be happy that Red China is caught in a trap.

There is a tale of a great rabbi who travelled about delivering sermons on what is right and what is wrong. Men came from far and near to listen to the rabbi. One day, in a very small synagogue in a very small town, the rabbi was telling the towns - people what they should do and how they should live and everybody wondered at the enormous scholarship and the noble character of the rabbi.

However, there was a shoemaker in the very back seats, the shoemaker being regarded as an ignorant man who did not know this or that. Nevertheless, the shoemaker rose and said that he wanted to ask a question. The congregation was in consternation. How dared a lowly shoemaker design to ask the great rabbi a question? The rabbi insisted that the shoemaker ask his question.

The shoemaker said: "I am an ignorant man who cannot read and cannot write and has never been to a school. Nevertheless, I have lived long and seen much. Therefore, I want to ask, 'Suppose it is just the opposite?'"

"My son, suppose what is just the opposite?"

"How should I know?" answered the shoemaker. "I am ignorant. Nevertheless I ask, suppose everything is just the opposite?"

I could not help thinking of this story as the work of the State Department geniuses unfolded it.

NEW YORK (AP)—Easier financing terms will be available now for many would-be home owners. That means those with a real urge will need less cash for a down payment and their monthly payments will be smaller because the mortgage will run longer.

The less they put up in cash and the longer they have to pay off the mortgage means, however, that the final cost of the house will be higher. Interest payments will add up over the years while their equity in their home will build up at a slower pace.

This may deter many who take a long-range view of managing their finances. But perhaps more persons will be interested in the down payment and monthly payment aspects of the new housing law which President Kennedy signed last week. The monthly payment as a way of life becomes more entrenched each year.

Builders with houses on their hands, especially in the lower price brackets where the new law particularly applies, hope the easing of terms will give a boost to their somewhat lagging industry.

Many others think any boost in housing starts may await next year, because of the time lag between planning and starting of construction.

The new law should widen the market for the lower priced house. Many who couldn't quite meet previous financing terms may find they can swing the new ones.

But what happens to the home building industry in general is still to be seen. The slackening in the last year or so has been attributed to many factors.

One, of course, is the very thing the new law is aimed to correct—the inability of lower income families to shoulder the financing terms.

But many in the industry concede that financing isn't the only factor.

The deeper reason for the slowdown may be that the home-hungry horde of the late 1940s and the 1950s has by now been accommodated. Then family formations fell off, as the smaller baby crops of the depressed 1930s came of age and married. Now the bigger baby crops of the war years are reaching the marrying age—but it may be some time before they can afford new homes, even on the lower monthly payment terms.

These are very good causes, but I believe it's time there were some letters coming in to you concerning more serious problems—like the freedom of America.

Unless the American people wake up to the fact that the cold war we are now having with the Communists powers is leading us to an inevitable nuclear war, we will have no need of stone markers, but grave markers.

How many Americans really understand how horrible Communism is? Or how many, for that matter, even bother to read articles which explain how it works and what it has accomplished within the last few years?

I had ordered several copies of an interview conducted by the House Un-American Activities Committee with Dr. Swartz, a noted crusader against Communism. I asked many friends if they would like to have a copy to read. One person was interested. Yes, only one. The others didn't have time or plainly said they "never read that stuff."

I think it high time the people of America pulled their heads out of the sand and started thinking of the future of our great nation instead of what's playing at the movies and so on. A few years from now we will all be wondering what happened—that is if we are free even to be able to have a mind all our own.

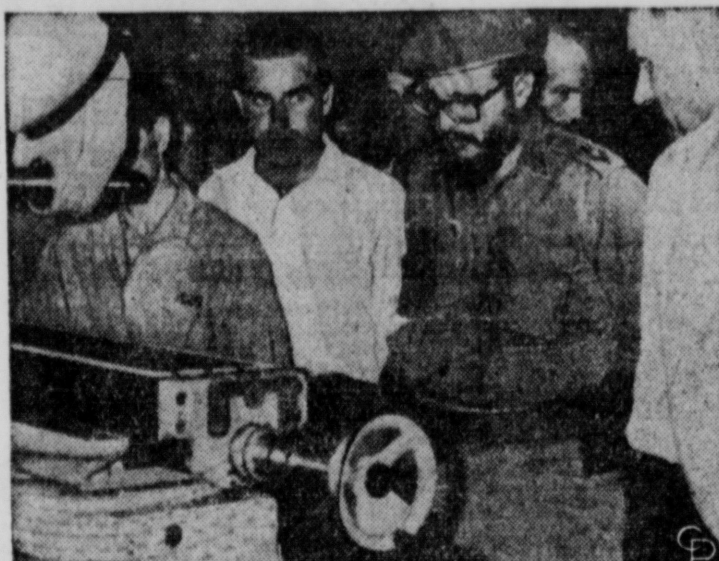

Unless all of us do wake up and start trying to find out what kind of a predicament we are in with Russia, Communism will surely have isolated and conquered us in 10 years, although the year 1973 or about that time is when Russia and Communism plan to have complete control of the world.

I'm afraid it will be too late then for any of us to wonder what has happened and how we let it happen.

Although I'm far from an authority on the subject, I'm still not so wrapped up in myself that I can't take time out from everyday chores to try to read everything I can about the horrors of Communism.

Berlin Looms Large

A threat which has the potentiality of developing into an ugly crisis in the near future figures prominently in debate in Congress. Berlin looms large in the landscape and once again the timorous ask, is it worth fighting for?

The debate was provoked by a suggestion from Senator Mansfield that Berlin be declared a "free city" and that its neutrality be guaranteed by both East and West. Such suggestions fall pleasantly on the ears of those who ask nothing but release from present tension, while forgetting all the experiences of the past which have proved that to give way on one demand is only to create another and greater one.

Premier Khrushchev insists that there be a European settlement this year, including a peace treaty in which the West recognizes Communist East Germany. Following this peace treaty the West would have to negotiate on Berlin directly with the East German government, with, of course, the Soviet Union's armed might standing behind it.

The East German government has made it clear that far from easing Allied access to Berlin, it would restrict it still more. In addition, it insists on possession of Tempelhof airfield which was the Allies' gateway to West Berlin during the blockade of 1948.

This demand gives a clear idea of the shape of things to come if the Allies back down and agree to a neutral Berlin as proposed by Senator Mansfield. A Berlin denuded of Western troops and isolated in the midst of communist territory would not long survive in neutralism against surrounding pressures.

These pressures would not only be economic. They would include those well-equipped troops of the East German army which are seen in May Day parade pictures, goose-stepping in seemingly endless columns alongside Soviet-made tanks.

A decision to neutralize Berlin would, in effect, be a victory for Mr. Khrushchev. Inevitably the West is committed to an exercise in "brinkmanship" which will demand strong nerves. The alternative would be to grant Khrushchev another peaceful conquest in his unceasing struggle for world revolution.

Estimates of An American

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—The free-born American yesterday celebrated nearly two centuries of uninterrupted independence.

He is proud of his own ideals and feels his own political system is the best ever invented—views not shared by all the rest of earth's inhabitants.

Just what kind of a person is an American, and what does his country stand for? Over the years he has received just about as many brickbats as bouquets, but has managed to survive both blame and praise.

Here are some memorable estimates of him and his ways: "I am willing to love all mankind except an American. They are a race of convicts and ought to be thankful for anything we allow them short of hanging."—Samuel Johnson, 1775.

"...knavery seems to be so much the striking feature of its (America's) inhabitants that it may not in the end be an evil that they will become aliens to this kingdom."—George III of England, 1782.

"All the men in America make money their pursuit."—Richard Parkenson, 1805.

"Two selfish gods, pleasure and gain, enslave the Americans."—William Faux, 1823.

"One of the most amiable features in the character of American society is this: that men never boast of their riches, an never disguise their poverty."—William Cobbett, 1829.

"In American an hour is 40 minutes."—German proverb.

"The Americans, like the English, probably make love worse than any other race."—Walt Whitman, 1856.

"The American is nomadic in religion, in ideas, in morals."—J.R. Lowell, 1864.

"Just what is it that America stands for? If she stands for one thing more than another it is for the sovereignty of self-governing people."—Woodrow Wilson, 1916.

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

Don't Hesitate—Act!

DEAR ABBY: I think I married the wrong man. The first year of our marriage I get pregnant. My husband never cared for children and, when I started to show, he told me every day how funny and disgusting I looked. I hoped he would change after the baby came, but he was worse. When the baby would cry at feeding time, my husband made me take the baby outside and feed him in the car. He even had adoption papers drawn up, but I refused to sign them.

When our little boy was five months old I got pregnant again. This time my husband acted like a mad man. I started lifting things no woman in her right mind would think of lifting in that condition, and I had the miscarriage I wanted. (I still cannot forgive myself for this.) My religion does not permit divorce. Must I live with this beast the rest of my life I am 19 and he is 24.

IN MISERY
DEAR IN: Your husband is either an arrested adolescent or he is mentally disturbed. If you continue to live with him, you will be as sick as he is. Talk to your Priest about a legal separation. And do it quickly.

DEAR ABBY: My mother has been in heaven for nearly six years. I was only nine when the Lord took her away, but there is something that stands out in my mind every time I think of her. Once she asked either my sister or myself to do a small chore for her. We argued so much over who should do it and she sent us outside, and did it herself.

Please put this in your column for girls who still have a mother living. It might be helpful.
SHARON

ed to honor you with a warm and loving name.

DEAR ABBY: If you want to do a real public service, please tell your readers when they send flowers to patients in a hospital to send a small bouquet or a plant. I am amazed at the number of huge floral arrangements that come into a patient's room. They get in the way of treatment, and are more trouble than they are worth.

Don't Undersell Experience

Q. My father, age 79, has had several falls. There is no dizziness—he just "suddenly finds himself on the floor." What causes this?

A. Attacks like this are peculiar because the person just falls without warning. The leg and back muscles suddenly seem to lose all power. Recovery may be almost immediate or delayed for several minutes. This and other types of falls experienced by elderly persons are probably related to a decrease with age in the number of brain cells controlling posture and gait. This explanation also makes it easy to understand the reason for certain difficulties of movement, which are common in old age. For example, the inability to quickly recover balance once it has been lost; and the apparent "thinking through" of an unusual movement by the older person before starting it. With fewer directing brain cells it seems necessary to visualize the sequence of movement in advance in order to prevent mishap.

Q. Commercial airline pilots are permitted to work until age 60. I think this is much too old. What is your opinion?

A. Age can be thought of in two ways: chronological age (the number of years we have lived) and functional age (level of performance). At the present time doctors have no satisfactory way of determining functional age, so authorities arbitrarily set the age limit for pilots at 60. This may be too high for some; too low for others. As one airline doctor said, "After an airline pilot has flown for many thousands of hours, he possesses training and judgment in the air which cannot be purchased at any price."

Don't Undersell Experience

Q. My father, age 79, has had several falls. There is no discernible reason for this. He just "suddenly finds himself on the floor." What causes this?

A. Attacks like this are peculiar because the person just falls without warning. The leg and back muscles suddenly seem to lose all power. Recovery may be almost immediate or delayed for several minutes. This and other types of falls experienced by elderly persons are probably related to a decrease with age in the number of brain cells controlling posture and gait. This explanation also makes it easy to understand the reason for certain difficulties of movement, which are common in old age. For example, the inability to quickly recover balance once it has been lost; and the apparent "thinking through" of an unusual movement by the older person before carrying it. With fewer directing brain cells it seems necessary to visualize the sequence of movement in advance in order to prevent mishap.

Q. Commercial airline pilots are permitted to work until age 60. I think this is much too old. What is your opinion?

A. Age can be thought of in two ways: chronological age (the number of years we have lived) and functional age (level of performance). At the present time doctors have no satisfactory way of determining functional age, so authorities arbitrarily set the age limit for pilots at 60. This may be too high for some; too low for others. As one airline doctor said, "After an airline pilot has flown for many thousands of hours, he possesses training and judgment in the air which can not be purchased at any price."

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

Don't Hesitate—Act!

DEAR ABBY: I think I married the wrong man. The first year of our marriage I get pregnant. My husband never cared for children and, when I started to show, he told me every day how funny and disgusting I looked. I hoped he would change after the baby came, but he was worse. When the baby would cry at feeding time, my husband made me take the baby outside and feed him in the car. He even had adoption papers drawn up, but I refused to sign them.

When our little boy was five months old I got pregnant again. This time my husband acted like a mad man. I started lifting things no woman in her right mind would think of lifting in that condition, and I had the miscarriage I wanted. (I still cannot forgive myself for this.) My religion does not permit divorce. Must I live with this beast the rest of my life I am 19 and he is 24.

IN MISERY
DEAR IN: Your husband is either an arrested adolescent or he is mentally disturbed. If you continue to live with him, you will be as sick as he is. Talk to your Priest about a legal separation. And do it quickly.

DEAR ABBY: My mother has been in heaven for nearly six years. I was only nine when the Lord took her away, but there is something that stands out in my mind every time I think of her. Once she asked either my sister or myself to do a small chore for her. We argued so much over who should do it and she sent us outside, and did it herself.

Please put this in your column for girls who still have a mother living. It might be helpful.

SHARON

ed to honor you with a warm and loving name.

DEAR ABBY: If you want to do a real public service, please tell your readers when they send flowers to patients in a hospital to send a small bouquet or a plant. I am amazed at the number of huge floral arrangements that come into a patient's room. They get in the way of treatment, and are more trouble than they are worth.

Ag Secretary To Turn To His Advisory Unit

Commission Slated
To Meet July 11 on
Kennedy Farm Plan

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman is expected to turn to the National Agricultural Advisory Commission for advice on how to cope with a congress that shows reluctance to go along with Kennedy administration farm proposals.

The first meeting of the commission under the new administration has been scheduled for July 11. It was organized early in the Eisenhower administration with 18 members to advise Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson on farm policies and programs.

President Kennedy recently set up a new commission with 25 members, headed by Harry B. Caldwell, master of the North Carolina State Grange. On it are two former Democratic secretaries of agriculture, Claude R. Wickard and Charles F. Brannan.

The first meeting of the commission will be held at a time when Congress is balking at major farm program proposals advanced by Kennedy and Freeman. Both are the Senate and House agriculture committees have rejected a plan under which the secretary of agriculture and farmer advisory committee would be authorized to draft commodity supply stabilization programs subject to congressional veto.

If this becomes the final position of Congress, Freeman may have to turn to present laws and powers to develop stronger supply control programs than currently exist.

Congress is giving the administration programs with which to meet the most pressing farm commodity problems — surpluses of wheat and feed grains.

But in meeting future problems, it may become necessary for the secretary to make broader and bolder use of his price support authority to prevent overproduction. Existing law permits the secretary to set conditions for eligibility for price supports. He could attach production limitations to the supports. That is, he could say that only producers who cooperated with a control program would be eligible for supports.

He could not force compliance. Producers who wished to exceed limitations could do so if they passed up supports. Because of this, a control program based solely on supports would be less effective than only employed market-non-cooperators.

3-Story Fall Fails To Injure Boy, 4

CINCINNATI (AP) — Raymond Harvey, 4, was all right today after falling three stories from an unscreened attic window. His mother, Mrs. Edna Harvey, 28, was all right too—after treatment for shock at Christ Hospital where police took her when she fainted on seeing her son lying on the sidewalk. Raymond was uninjured in the fall.

Arlene Francis in Germany for Her First Big Movie Role

MUNICH (AP)—Arlene Francis, the ace ad libber, has come to Germany to speak somebody else's words for a change. It's her first movie—well, almost.

Arlene breezed into town (she travels no other way) to play the wife of James Cagney in Billy Wilder's "One, Two, Three." But when she got here, she had little to do but sight-see.

"I was supposed to come here last month," she said. "Then it was postponed and postponed. I had so many farewell parties that my friends were saying, 'Won't she ever leave?' Finally Billy sent me so my friends wouldn't have to keep facing me."

How did she get the role? It came in a blinding flash while Wilder and I. A. L. Diamond were writing the script. They kept referring to the wife as "a kind of Arlene Francis." And who else could play the part better? This kind of logic is seldom evidenced in Hollywood.

She said this is virtually her film debut. But upon pinning down, she confessed two other misadventures.

"The first was when I was 17 and visiting friends in California,"

Naval Officer Is Rotary Speaker

An interesting program is on the schedule tomorrow when the Rotary Club gathers for its regular noon meeting at the BPO Elks home.

Lt. William J. Westphal, who was aboard the ship that successfully launched the first ballistic missile at sea, will be the guest speaker. His subject will be "Your Navy and Your Future."

Charles Walters is the Rotarian directing this program.

George Washington was a renowned host. He once compared his home, Mount Vernon, to "a well resorted tavern, as scarcely any strangers who are going from north to south, or from south to north, do not spend a day or two at it."

she said. "I played in 'Murders in the Rue Morgue' with Bela Lugosi. That was one in which he combined the blood of a human with the blood of an ape—guess which part I played."

"When I was pregnant, somebody lined up a tiny part in 'All My Sons' just to keep me busy. I played that famous cliché, the girl next door."

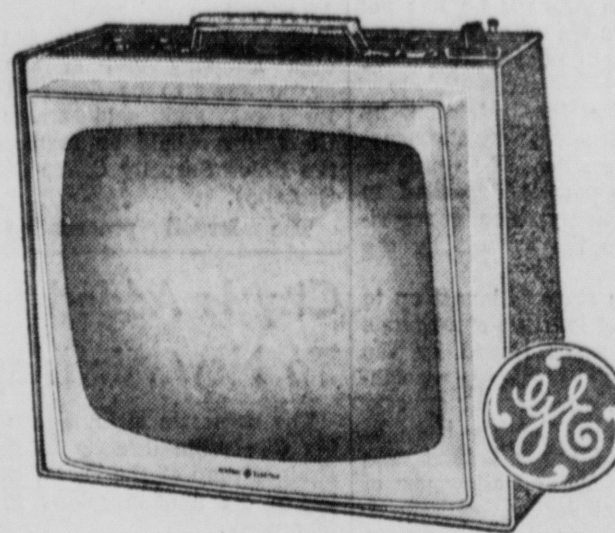

"I don't know; I'd like to do this one," she said impatiently. She planned to kill time until her role starts by visiting friends in London—perhaps for some more farewell parties.

Future films would be impossible if she accepts a deal that is being offered her. NBC wants her to help fill the "Today" post being vacated by Dave Garroway.

"They plan to change the format and have a man and woman handling the show," Arlene said. "A lot of my decision depends on who the man is. John Daily was mentioned, and I would have loved working with him. But I don't think he'll do it."

Governor OKs 12 New Bills

Rabies Immunization Measure Given Nod

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Michael DiSalle Monday signed another dozen legislative acts into law, including a measure permitting general health districts to require immunization of dogs against rabies.

The act was passed because of an attorney general's opinion holding that the present law permits required immunization only in areas where quarantines have been declared because of the prevalence of rabies.

Other acts signed would: Exempt from arrest a person subpoenaed as a witness who fails to appear on grounds he has not been paid his travel expenses and his $3 fee for one day's attendance at court.

Provide for the retention by boards of trustees of state-supported universities of some income which now is deposited in the state treasury, then appropriated back to the schools by the legislature.

Permit the state to invest up to 10 per cent of inactive state funds in discount notes issued by the federal national mortgage association, a U. S. government agency.

Change Ohio election laws to permit use of paper ballots with marking devices and allow use of automatic tabulating equipment.

Permit the municipally owned Cincinnati Southern Railway to issue 50-year bonds for improvements. A companion measure also signed by the governor, in effect, transfers future control of such transactions from the legislature to the Cincinnati City Council.

Indonesia Receives Bombers from Russia

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — The first group of long-range Soviet bombers for Indonesia's air force has arrived.

The Circleville Herald, Wed. July 5, 1961
Circleville, Ohio

Nazi Official File Seeks To Back Eichmann Defense

JERUSALEM (AP) — Adolf Eichmann's attorney has introduced a Nazi Foreign Ministry document to show that the former Gestapo officer handled the deportation of Jews from Hungary in 1944 under orders from both the Foreign Ministry and the SS (Elite Guard).

Defense counsel Robert Servatius offered the Nazi file to cap a series of claims at the former chief of the Gestapo's Jewish Affairs Section did his work in the Nazi program on orders from above, mostly from the Foreign Office.

The document, a letter from Eberhard von Thadden, Eichmann's counterpart in the Foreign Ministry told of the first 50,000 Jews to be deported from Budapest and said trains and timetables would be managed by the Reich Security Office (SS and Gestapo).

The Israeli prosecution has built a large cornerstone of its case on the Hungarian evacuation to the death camps. This was one phase of the program in which Eichmann was on the scene for months on end and not in his Berlin office.

Servatius constructed an edifice of documents in an effort to show the Nazi Foreign office was the real driving force behind the Jewish extermination campaign and the Gestapo was only an instrument to carry out that policy.

Nearing the end of his case, Servatius led Eichmann through several dozen Nazi files covering Italy, Romania, Bulgaria, Greece and Hungary. He was just beginning his case on Hungary when court adjourned for the day.

Eichmann, on the witness stand for the 10th day, eagerly clutched at every opportunity to confirm those portions which linked the Foreign Office to the mass slaughter measures.

Servatius produced a file in which the German consulate in Rome reported personally to Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop in the fall of 1943 that SS Maj. Gen. Hubert Kappler had been "commissioned to deport 8,000 Jews from Rome to upper Italy where they will be liquidated."

City Is Added To New Air Map

The domestic airlines are adding Circleville directly to the Air Freight map of the U. S., according to an announcement made this week.

Under the new arrangement, which will benefit shippers and receivers throughout the United States, Quick Air Freight, Inc., a motor carrier based in Columbus, will exchange traffic — both inbound and outbound — with the airlines at Port Columbus Airport for direct movement to and from shippers and receivers located at 23 important Ohio cities, including Circleville.

U of C Receives Grant

CINCINNATI (AP) — The University of Cincinnati College of Nursing and Health has received $85,651 in grants from the National Institute for Mental Health for 1961-62.

Buckeye Wing For Encampment

The Buckeye Wing will hold its annual encampment July 8-22 this year at Clinton County AFB.

More than 1200 Air Force Reserve members of the 302d Troop Carrier Wing (Reserve) will train at the USAF base near Wilmington for 15 days. Buckeye Wing members train one weekend a month and 15 days during the summer.

Reserve members of the 302d live in the metropolitan Columbus area.

The wing's C-119 aircraft provide airlift of men, equipment and supplies.

Fuss over Lizzard Brings Death to Ohio Man

HAYESVILLE, N.C. (AP) — Frank Hogsd, 41, of Canton, Ohio, was stabbed fatally Tuesday during a family reunion here.

Sheriff Neal Kitchens said Colvin Coward, 26, of nearby Shooting Creek, admitted slaying Hogsd during an argument over lizards.

Witnesses said the argument developed when Hogsd accused Coward of stealing lizards from a brother. The Hogsd's were catching the lizards for fishing bait.

The smallest atoms that have been measured are less than four billionths of an inch across.

Governor OKs 12 New Bills

Rabies Immunization Measure Given Nod

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Michael DiSalle Monday signed another dozen legislative acts into law, including a measure permitting general health districts to require immunization of dogs against rabies.

The act was passed because of an attorney general's opinion holding that the present law permits required immunization only in areas where quarantines have been declared because of the prevalence of rabies.

Other acts signed would: Exempt from arrest a person subpoenaed as a witness who fails to appear on grounds he has not been paid his travel expenses and his $3 fee for one day's attendance at court.

Provide for the retention by boards of trustees of state-supported universities of some income which now is deposited in the state treasury, then appropriated back to the schools by the legislature.

Permit the state to invest up to 10 per cent of inactive state funds in discount notes issued by the federal national mortgage association, a U. S. government agency.

Change Ohio election laws to permit use of paper ballots with marking devices and allow use of automatic tabulating equipment.

Permit the municipally owned Cincinnati Southern Railway to issue 50-year bonds for improvements. A companion measure also signed by the governor, in effect, transfers future control of such transactions from the legislature to the Cincinnati City Council.

Indonesia Receives Bombers from Russia

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — The first group of long-range Soviet bombers for Indonesia's air force has arrived.

More bombers, part of Indonesia's huge arms purchases from the Soviet Union, will come later, an announcement said. The number to be delivered was not announced.

Nazi Official File Seeks To Back Eichmann Defense

JERUSALEM (AP) — Adolf Eichmann's attorney has introduced a Nazi Foreign Ministry document to show that the former Gestapo officer handled the deportation of Jews from Hungary in 1944 under orders from both the Foreign Ministry and the SS (Elite Guard).

Defense counsel Robert Servatius offered the Nazi file to cap a series of claims at the former chief of the Gestapo's Jewish Affairs Section did his work in the Nazi program on orders from above, mostly from the Foreign Office.

The document, a letter from Eberhard von Thadden, Eichmann's counterpart in the Foreign Ministry told of the first 50,000 Jews to be deported from Budapest and said trains and timetables would be managed by the Reich Security Office (SS and Gestapo).

The Israeli prosecution has built a large cornerstone of its case on the Hungarian evacuation to the death camps. This was one phase of the program in which Eichmann was on the scene for months on end and not in his Berlin office.

Servatius constructed an edifice of documents in an effort to show the Nazi Foreign office was the real driving force behind the Jewish extermination campaign and the Gestapo was only an instrument to carry out that policy.

Nearing the end of his case, Servatius led Eichmann through several dozen Nazi files covering Italy, Romania, Bulgaria, Greece and Hungary. He was just beginning his case on Hungary when court adjourned for the day.

2 Colorful Congressmen Are 'Third Party' in House

WASHINGTON (AP)—There is a third party in the House of Representatives.

This party is not a household name across the country, like Republican or Democratic, but its existence is well known to members of Congress and those who watch them at work.

The party doesn't have a name at all, and has only two members—Rep. H. R. Gross of Iowa and Rep. Clare Hoffman of Michigan.

In the record books they are Republicans but on the floor of the House they follow their own rules. Over the years they have come to speak of themselves as "the only members of our party," and they are recognized as such by Democrats and other Republicans.

"Our objective is efficiency and economy," Hoffman said recently. "What FDR said in 1932 and promptly forgot."

Hoffman is one of the most noticeable members of the House. He is 85 years old, tall, hawk-faced, white-thatched and overwhelmingly articulate. Rarely at a standstill, he paces the Republican side of the chamber, ready with a "Will the gentleman yield?" whenever the fancy takes him, which it often does.

Gross is unlike his flamboyant party-mate but makes his presence felt. He is slight, has a receding hairline, dresses somberly.

The House meets at noon and by 12:10 almost every day the corridors and offices ring with the bells of a quorum call. It is H. R. Gross, who believes a majority of the members should be in attendance when important bills are being debated. Throughout the vast warren of the House Office Buildings, congressmen scurry to his summons.

His forte is to stand four-square against what he regards as excessive spending. He crouches quietly at the end of the Republican committee table, and if he thinks there is a chance to score for his cause, or clip a million off a bill, he leaps to his feet with parliamentary weapons at the ready.

Gross did it again this week in even more spectacular fashion.

An obscure resolution to create a fancy special flag for members of Congress was called up by Rep. Samuel N. Friedel, D-Md., who apparently wanted to fly it from the flagstaff of his pleasure boat.

Gross leaped to the fray like a shark scenting blood, firing a series of sarcastic questions at Friedel and another member who took up the battle. Finally, Gross shouted, "This is utter, unmitigated foolishness."

Speaker Sam Rayburn, irritated by the uproar, tried to dispose of it by having Friedel withdraw the resolution. Gross refused to go along and by a parliamentary maneuver forced a roll call vote.

Many hastily summoned members were not clear what they were voting for, and some later changed their votes. The flag resolution was voted down 279 to 108.

How did the Gross-Hoffman party start? Well, it's all in fun, but Hoffman has this explanation:

"It goes back to the time when Gross used to rise to make a point of order or a point of no quorum. Some of the Republican leaders used to rush down there and in my opinion they tried to intimidate him. They gathered around him publicly, arguing with him. I considered it a humiliation.

"So when they began to put the heat on Gross, why, I'd object. I didn't want to see him kicked around. And you notice he isn't anymore."

In truth, no one seems to get irked by Gross' quorum calls;

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ernest Hemingway's people confronted death as something not to be postponed, as Hector in Homer's Iliad did when he stopped running to face Achilles, armed but without hope.

Hemingway said 26 years ago, long before illness overtook him, "I must write because if I do not write a certain amount I do not enjoy the rest of my life."

It is a reasonable guess the prospect of years of invalidism, or at least marginal vitality, took the joy out of life for him.

This may be too simple for future analysts seeking the meaning of the shotgun blast which killed him last Sunday. You can almost read them now:

That his concern with death, which dominated all he wrote, meant he was obsessed with fear of it and that he sought to buy they are accepted as one of the facts of existence by other members, like dawn, April showers and appropriations bills.

Hoffman sometimes leaves a committee meeting with the explanation that he has to hold a caucus with Gross over their party tactics.

Actually, he says, "We play it by ear—there's nothing fixed or formal."

Gross has no dramatic explanation. "We just have a lot of fun," he says. "With all the frustrations around here, you've got to have a little fun sometimes."

time through the years by marching character after character to inevitable doom as a substitute for himself.

The literary pigeon-fanciers who like cooing or a message mauled him. But he was no soothsayer, he used words like rocks, and, in the beginning he had no message.

Maxwell Geismar once wrote that Hemingway's people "act as if thought is unthinkable." This was true. He was an artist, writing about the muscles of the heart, not the capillaries of the brain.

The muscles got tired as he grew older. His best work was his early work: the short stories, "The Sun Also Rises," "A Farewell to Arms," some parts of "Death in the Afternoon," some parts of "To Have and Have Not."

It was downhill after that—although for him was up on the mountain for most of his contemporaries—as if he had listened too much to the critics who wanted a message, who said he had no social consciousness.

In those early days he showed none of it. Why should he have? He was an artist writing about people in trouble as he saw them, without moral judgments. He had one measuring rod: to write "truly." It was his own word.

But no one can ever really understand—perhaps feel is a better word—what Hemingway really meant to American literature unless he was alive and young in those middle 1920s when Hemingway's work began.

The woods were full of literary frauds and second-raters who played it cute and safe, wrote strictly for bucks, suffered from Victorian anemia, or pumped out sex-shockers which disappeared in the garbage can.

There were some honest men writing, like Theodore Dreiser and Sherwood Anderson, who tried to cut new roads with stories about the world as they saw it themselves, but Dreiser was clumsy and Anderson was sentimental.

Then Hemingway, who used his ears to listen and not to keep his hat off his chin, broke through to write about talk as it's spoken and life as it is. He wrote to write and not for money. He made no concessions.

He did it with enormous self-discipline and economy in language and emotion. He created a yardstick by which those coming after him had to be measured. At his worst he was a giant.

Perhaps the future will decide his greatest contribution was not his style (which sometimes became a caricature of itself) or his ear (which wasn't always good) but his honesty above all in a field where it's a cinch to cheat.

Congress passed a law against importation of the Giant African Snail in 1953.

2 Colorful Congressmen Are 'Third Party' in House

WASHINGTON (AP)—There is a third party in the House of Representatives.

This party is not a household name across the country, like Republican or Democratic, but its existence is well known to members of Congress and those who watch them at work.

The party doesn't have a name at all, and has only two members—Rep. H. R. Gross of Iowa and Rep. Clare Hoffman of Michigan.

In the record books they are Republicans but on the floor of the House they follow their own rules. Over the years they have come to speak of themselves as "the only members of our party," and they are recognized as such by Democrats and other Republicans.

"Our objective is efficiency and economy," Hoffman said recently. "What FDR said in 1932 and promptly forgot."

Hoffman is one of the most noticeable members of the House. He is 85 years old, tall, hawk-faced, white-thatched and overwhelmingly articulate. Rarely at a standstill, he paces the Republican side of the chamber, ready with a "Will the gentleman yield?" whenever the fancy takes him, which it often does.

Gross is unlike his flamboyant party-mate but makes his presence felt. He is slight, has a receding hairline, dresses somberly.

The House meets at noon and by 12:10 almost every day the corridors and offices ring with the bells of a quorum call. It is H. R. Gross, who believes a majority of the members should be in attendance when important bills are being debated. Throughout the vast warren of the House Office Buildings, congressmen scurry to his summons.

His forte is to stand four-square against what he regards as excessive spending. He crouches quietly at the end of the Republican committee table, and if he thinks there is a chance to score for his cause, or clip a million off a bill, he leaps to his feet with parliamentary weapons at the ready.

Gross did it again this week in even more spectacular fashion.

An obscure resolution to create a fancy special flag for members of Congress was called up by Rep. Samuel N. Friedel, D-Md., who apparently wanted to fly it from the flagstaff of his pleasure boat.

Gross leaped to the fray like a shark scenting blood, firing a series of sarcastic questions at Friedel and another member who took up the battle. Finally, Gross shouted, "This is utter, unmitigated foolishness."

Speaker Sam Rayburn, irritated by the uproar, tried to dispose of it by having Friedel withdraw the resolution. Gross refused to go along and by a parliamentary maneuver forced a roll call vote.

Many hastily summoned members were not clear what they were voting for, and some later changed their votes. The flag resolution was voted down 270 to 168.

How did the Gross-Hoffman party start? Well, it's all in fun, but Hoffman has this explanation: "It goes back to the time when Gross used to rise to make a point of order or a point of no quorum. Some of the Republican leaders used to rush down there and in my opinion they tried to intimidate him. They gathered around him publicly, arguing with him. I considered it a humiliation.

"So when they began to put the heat on Gross, why, I'd object. I didn't want to see him kicked around. And you notice he isn't anymore."

In truth, no one seems to get irked by Gross' quorum calls; they are accepted as one of the facts of existence by other members, like dawn, April showers and appropriations bills.

Hoffman sometimes leaves a committee meeting with the explanation that he has to hold a caucus with Gross over their party tactics.

Actually, he says, "We play it by ear—there's nothing fixed or formal."

Gross has no dramatic explanation. "We just have a lot of fun," he says. "With all the frustrations around here, you've got to have a little fun sometimes."

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ernest Hemingway's people confronted death as something not to be postponed, as Hector in Homer's Iliad did when he stopped running to face Achilles, armed but without hope.

Hemingway said 26 years ago, long before illness overtook him, "I must write because if I do not write a certain amount I do not enjoy the rest of my life."

It is a reasonable guess the prospect of years of invalidism, or at least marginal vitality, took the joy out of life for him.

This may be too simple for future analysts seeking the meaning of the shotgun blast which killed him last Sunday. You can almost read them now:

That his concern with death, which dominated all he wrote, meant he was obsessed with fear of it and that he sought to buy time through the years by marching character after character to inevitable doom as a substitute for himself.

The literary pigeon-fanciers who like cooing or a message mauling him. But he was no soothsayer, he used words like rocks, and, in the beginning he had no message.

Maxwell Geismar once wrote that Hemingway's people "act as if thought is unthinkable." This was true. He was an artist, writing about the muscles of the heart, not the capillaries of the brain.

The muscles got tired as he grew older. His best work was his early work: the short stories, "The Sun Also Rises," "A Farewell to Arms," some parts of "Death in the Afternoon," some parts of "To Have and Have Not."

It was downhill after that—al though for him was up on the mountain for most of his contemporaries—as if he had listened too much to the critics who wanted a message, who said he had no social consciousness.

In those early days he showed none of it. Why should he have? He was an artist writing about people in trouble as he saw them, without moral judgments. He had one measuring rod: to write "truly." It was his own word.

But no one can ever really understand—perhaps feel is a better word—what Hemingway really meant to American literature unless he was alive and young in those middle 1920s when Hemingway's work began.

The woods were full of literary frauds and second-raters who played it cute and safe, wrote strictly for bucks, suffered from Victorian anemia, or pumped out sex-shockers which disappeared in the garbage can.

There were some honest men writing, like Theodore Dreiser and Sherwood Anderson, who tried to cut new roads with stories about the world as they saw it themselves, but Dreiser was clumsy and Anderson was sentimental.

Then Hemingway, who used his ears to listen and not to keep his hat off his chin, broke through to write about talk as it's spoken and life as it is. He wrote to write and not for money. He made no concessions.

He did it with enormous self-discipline and economy in language and emotion. He created a yardstick by which those coming after him had to be measured. At his worst he was a giant.

Perhaps the future will decide his greatest contribution was not his style (which sometimes became a caricature of itself) or his ear (which wasn't always good) but his honesty above all in a field where it's a cinch to cheat.

Redlegs Retain 2-Game Lead in National League

3-Hitter by Jay Clips Pirates as Dodgers Trip Braves

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Cincinnati Reds stayed two games out front in the National League race by beating Pittsburgh 2-0 behind the three-hit pitching of Joey Jay Tuesday while the second-place Los Angeles Dodgers won their fifth in a row with a 6-5 decision at Milwaukee.

That gave the Reds a July 4th lead for the first time since 1957 (when they finished fourth behind Milwaukee). Over the past 60 years, 38 Fourth of July leaders have won pennants in the NL, while 41 have made it in the American.

San Francisco split a pair at Chicago, romping 19-3 before the Cubs made off with a 3-2 decision. St. Louis and Philadelphia also split. The Cards won the opener 10-7, but the Phils took the second game 10-6.

In the American League, Detroit retained a one-game lead by splitting a pair with second-place New York. The Yanks won 6-2, but the Tigers took the second game 4-3 in 10 innings. Baltimore clubbed Cleveland 5-1, Washington belted Boston 7-3, Minnesota swept two from the Chicago White Sox, 6-4 and 4-2, and the Los Angeles Angels dropped Kansas City to the bottom by taking two from the A's, 12-5 and 7-5.

Jay (11-4) gave up nothing but singles, walked but two and struck out three for his second shutout as the Reds won their fourth in a row. A fifth-inning home run by Gene Freese broke up a shutout duel with Earl Francis (1-3).

The Dodgers handed the Braves a fourth straight loss, and their fifth defeat in six games by getting all their runs in the first inning off Bob Hendley and reliever Don Nottebart. After bases-loaded walks forced in the first two runs, Charlie Neal belted a three-run double and scored the clincher on a single by Norm Sherry. Stan Williams (8-7) was the winner with relief help from Dick Farrell, who gave up a home run by Hank Aaron.

Ed Mathews of the Braves and Daryl Spencer of the Dodgers suffered injuries when Spencer slid into Mathews at third. Orlando Cepeda drove in eight runs for the Giants in the opener with five consecutive hits, including a three-run homer that was one of the longest ever hit at Wrigley Field. Billy O'Dell (4-3) was the winner, giving up just two hits after relieving Ed Fisher in the first inning. Don Cardwell (7-6) was the loser.

Ron Santo's eight-inning home run broke a 2-2 tie in the second game and beat reliever Dick LeMay. Winning lefty Jack Curtis (5-2) and reliever Bob Anderson held Cepeda to a pair of do-nothing singles in this one, but Willie Mays belted his 300th home run for the Giants.

Stan Musial collected four RBI with a triple and a homer for the Cards in the first game as Curt Simmons (3-7) beat Don Ferrarese (1-4). The Phils then junked their losing string at seven in the nightcap, overhauling a 6-0 Card lead on a three-run homer by Jim Coker in the seventh inning off losing reliever Craig Anderson.

Bill Bruton, Detroit center fielder, paced World Series hitters with a .412 mark in 1958. He was with Milwaukee then.

Purina, Rotary Win

Four-Run Rally Gives Herald 9-8 Triumph over Coke Nine

A four-run outburst in the last of the fifth hoisted The Herald to a 9-8 win over Coca-Cola and visiting Purina bopped Bingham's Drugs 11-4 in Little Major League games Monday.

In the minors, Rotary scored 12 second-inning runs to down Second National 23-12.

The Herald had to travel a rocky comeback road in its victory. Coke opened up for eight tallies in the top of the first as Barnes and Martindale slugged singles and Herald hurler Dan Gibbs walked five men.

Gibbs, after his initial pounding, settled down to blank the losers with just two hits the rest of the way. Five walks and an error enabled the paperboys to break into the scoring column with two mar-

Morrison Hits Circuit Clout In TV Triumph

Don Morrison did everything but walk off with the field as Stonerock's TV trounced Penney's Confectionary of Greenfield 7-0 Sunday on the loser's diamond.

Morrison blasted a fourth-inning grand-slam home run and drove in another score in the third to pace the TV attack.

Harry Strawser and Paul Neff combined to close the gates on Penney's with only two hits, singles by Miller and Foltz. Starter Strawser struck out a half-dozen men and walked one. Neff mopped up, giving no walks and fanning three.

Jack McGuire completed Stonerock's hitting destruction, smacking a double in a two-run uprising in the fifth.

DON NEFF, Sam Morrison and Christian struck one single apiece for the winners. Harold Gulick got two-for-two and Leon Sims failed to record a hit to complete TV batting.

Manley whiffed six and walked four in absorbing the defeat. Penney's relief specialist, blanked Stonerock's over the last two frames with three strikeouts and no free passes.

Antonelli Shipped Back to Braves

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Southpaw Johnny Antonelli, a bitter disappointment for Cleveland in a brief tour in the American League, is rejoining the Milwaukee Braves, the club which signed him for a fat bonus 13 years ago.

The purchase of Antonelli, 31, from the Indians for an undisclosed amount of cash was announced Tuesday night in a Milwaukee move to bolster a sagging pitching staff.

Antonelli was signed for a reported $65,000 bonus by the Braves, then in Boston, in 1948. He was traded to the Giants, then in New York, in 1954, winning 21 games that season. He won 20 in 1956 and 19 in 1959.

Six of 11 Yankees who saw pitching action in the 1960 World Series are still with the New Yorkers.

DuPont Drops Kiwanis, 6-2

Other Major Tilt Taken by Ashville

DuPont proved an inhospitable team to visiting Kiwanis, dumping the K Club squad 6-2 in a BR Major contest Monday. Ashville took the measure of General Electric, 5-2, in the only other major circuit action.

Butch Jewelers were too strong for Third National in the minors, winning 23-17.

DuPont moundsman George Reeser flashed his usual brilliant form through the first five innings, shutting out the Kiwanians on just one hit.

Evans singles for the first chemist's score in the first, and they picked up another without a hit in the third. In the bottom of the fifth, Reeser boosted his winning cause with a two-run double.

KIWANIS rallied for its only scores of the game in the top of the sixth as Howard Dade and Wendall Lovett rocked Reeser for consecutive home run pokes which sailed over the fence. The DuPont hurler bore down to fan the next three men and squelch the uprising, though.

In the sixth the Kiwanis fielding folded to give DuPont two unearned tallies. Spangler doubled in the top of the seventh for the losers, but Reeser again proved equal to the threat, striking out the side.

Ashville's Gary Ferguson clubbed a home run to lead his team in their win over GE. Dave Bass gave the losers their only scoring punch of the tilt, smacking two hits. No score book was available for the contest.

Ron Smith belted a last-inning home run to cap Butch Jewclry's scoring parade against Third National. The winners' ad to come up with eight seventh-frame runs to insure the victory as the bankers punched across 11 markers in the sixth and five in the top of the seventh.

Third had counted one run in the fourth for their first score. The jewelers marked one in the first, four in the second, three in the third, a single counter in the fourth, three in the fifth and a pair in the sixth in their steady victory climb.

Cupp was the winning pitcher and Gray took the defeat.

2 Americans Entered in World Trot

WESTBURY, N.Y. (AP) - Two standardbreds, instead of one, will represent the United States in the $50,000 International Trot at Roosevelt Raceway July 15.

Su Mac Lad, winner of seven of nine starts, gets in on his record. Merrie Duke gets in on the strength of his stunning victory over Su Mac Lad and other contenders in the $50,000 American Trotting Championship at Roosevelt Monday night.

Merrie Duke won by half a length over Su Mac Lad in the mile and a quarter race, catching the odds-on - favorite just before the wire after a tremendous surge in the last quarter mile. Merrie Duke, a 31-1 shot, was timed in 2:33 3-5, three-fifths of a second over the world record set in 1953 by Florican.

Su Mac Lad finished 2 1/4 lengths ahead of White Foot Joe, a 70-1 chance, with Hickory Pride fourth.

Merrie Duke, driven by John Patterson, picked up $25,000 for his owner, Byron D. Kuth of Chesterland, Ohio. The winner paid $25, $13.10 and $3.40, an excellent price considering he had won four of five previous starts this year.

Senator Frost, another Ohio horse, was a late scratch because of lameness.

Su Mac Lad and Merrie Duke will oppose the finest trotters from Europe in the International, which was set back to July 15 after originally being scheduled for July 14.

Kuth Stable Chalks Another Sulky Prize

FOJBORO, Mass. (AP) - The stable of Byron Kuth of Chesterland, Ohio, whose Merrie Duke won the $50,000 American Trotting Championship at Roosevelt Raceway Monday night, chalked up another victory at Bay State Raceway here Tuesday night. His Right Time took the Independence Mile Pace in 2:01 1-5.

Four-Run Rally Gives Herald 9-8 Triumph over Coke Nine

A four - run outburst in the last of the fifth hoisted The Herald to a 9-8 win over Coca-Cola and visiting Purina bopped Bingham's Drugs 11-4 in Little Major League games Monday.

In the minors, Rotary scored 12 second - inning runs to down Second National 23-12.

The Herald had to travel a rocky comeback road in its victory. Coke opened up for eight tallies in the top of the first as Barnes and Martindale slugged singles and Herald hurler Dan Gibbs walked five men.

Gibbs, after his initial pounding, settled down to blank the losers with just two hits the rest of the way. Five walks and an error enabled the paperboys to break into the scoring column with two markers in the second.

BACK-TO-BACK one baggers by White and Pritchard added three more counters to the winning cause in the fourth. After Joe Winner fanned to open the fifth, Gibbs walked and Daryl Bass and Humble produced consecutive singles.

Mac Bethel was safe on a fielding boot and three more walks yielded the necessary runs for the triumph. Tom Wright walked in the top of the sixth, but Coke's only rally threat languished on first as Gibbs got the next three men in order.

Lynn Heath's three safeties topped an 11-hit attack for Purina. The feedmen started with three markers on doubles by Heath and Steele and Hill's single in the first. Bingham's clipped the spread to one run with two tallies on Tim Stonerock's double - bagger in the bottom of the frame.

Stegle gave the drugists one run in the second and another in the third before closing the gates for good.

Ralston wrapped up the contest with five second - stanza runs on doubles by Hill, Pontious and singles by Heath and Young. Relief pitcher Cassill held Purina scoreless in the third, but they got to him for one run on Lindsey's double in the fourth.

Single counters in the fifth and sixth rounded out the 11-4 triumph.

In A three - inning affair, Rotary utilized nine free passes, a triple by Helwagen, Roy's double and four singles to pound out 12 second-frame runs.

They scored nine in the first, a pair in the second and closed with two in the third.

Second National folded after starting loudly with seven first-inning markers on three singles. They managed two in the second and three in the third against Dumm's pitching. Downing, Second's starter, absorbed the loss.

Palmer, Player Eye British Open

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (AP) — Arnold Palmer and Gary Player were en route to Southport, England, today to prepare for the British Open Golf Championship at Birkdale starting July 10, and Palmer's pockets were jingling.

The American won $10,000 in defeating Player by five strokes at St. Andrews Tuesday in the first of a series of head-to-head matches, carding a two-under-par 70 to 75 for the stocky South African, who won the Masters Championship this year by a stroke from Palmer.

The match turned into a nine-hour marathon as it was taped by the American Broadcasting Company for a later showing in the United States.

DuPont Drops Kiwanis, 6-2

Other Major Tilt Taken by Ashville

DuPont proved an inhospitable team to visiting Kiwanis, dumping the K Club squad 6-2 in a BR Major contest Monday. Ashville took the measure of General Electric, 5-2, in the only other major circuit action.

Butch Jewelers were too strong for Third National in the minors, winning 23-17.

DuPont moundsman George Reeser flashed his usual brilliant form through the first five innings, shutting out the Kiwanians on just one hit.

Evans singles for the first chemist's score in the first, and they picked up another without a hit in the third. In the bottom of the fifth, Reeser boosted his winning cause with a two-run double.

KIWANIS rallied for its only scores of the game in the top of the sixth as Howard Dade and Wendall Lovett rocked Reeser for consecutive home run pokes which sailed over the fence. The DuPont hurler bore down to fan the next three men and squelch the uprising, though.

In the sixth the Kiwanis fielding folded to give DuPont two unearned tallies. Spangler doubled in the top of the seventh for the losers, but Reeser again proved equal to the threat, striking out the side.

Ashville's Gary Ferguson clubbed a home run to lead his team in their win over GE. Dave Bass gave the losers their only scoring punch of the tilt, smacking two hits. No score book was available for the contest.

Ron Smith belted a last-inning home run to cap Butch Jeweler's scoring parade against Third National. The winners' ad to come up with eight seventh-frame runs to insure the victory as the bankers punched across 11 markers in the sixth and five in the top of the seventh.

Third had counted one run in the fourth for their first score. The jewelers marked one in the first, four in the second, three in the third, a single counter in the fourth, three in the fifth and a pair in the sixth in their steady victory climb.

Cupp was the winning pitcher and Gray took the defeat.

2 Americans Entered in World Trot

WESTBURY, N.Y. (AP) — Two standardbreds, instead of one, will represent the United States in the $50,000 International Trot at Roosevelt Raceway July 15.

Su Mac Lad, winner of seven of nine starts, gets in on his record. Merrie Duke gets in on the strength of his stunning victory over Su Mac Lad and other contenders in the $50,000 American Trotting Championship at Roosevelt Monday night.

Merrie Duke won by half a length over Su Mac Lad in the mile and a quarter race, catching the odds-on - favorite just before the wire after a tremendous surge in the last quarter mile. Merrie Duke, a 31-1 shot, was timed in 2:33.3-5, three-fifths of a second over the world record set in 1953 by Florican.

Su Mac Lad finished 2 1/4 lengths ahead of White Foot Joe, a 70-1 chance, with Hickory Pride fourth.

Merrie Duke, driven by John Patterson, picked up $25,000 for his owner, Byron D. Kuth of Chesterland, Ohio. The winner paid $35, $13.10 and $5.40, an excellent price considering he had won four of five previous starts this year.

Senator Frost, a nother Ohio horse, was a late scratch because of lameness.

Su Mac Lad and Merrie Duke will oppose the finest trotters from Europe in the International, which was set back to July 15 after originally being scheduled for July 14.

Kuth Stable Chalks Another Sulky Prize

FOJBORO, Mass. (AP) — The stable of Byron Kuth of Chesterland, Ohio, whose Merrie Duke won the $50,000 American Trotting Championship at Roosevelt Raceway Monday night, chalked up another victory at Bay State Raceway here Tuesday night. His Right Time took the Independence Mile Pace in 2:01.1-5.

Study To Be Made Of Area Economy

The initiation of a long-range study of the economy of central and southern Ohio and its probable growth over the next 25 years was announced today by Harry M. Miller, president of the Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Company. The study will be conducted by Battelle Memorial Institute over a two-year period.

Battelle economists will seek to identify and analyze those economic and cultural factors essential to the region's future growth and development.

The study will attempt to provide guideposts for use by the utility and by various communities and interested groups of the region. In developing specific guideposts for stimulating economic and cultural growth in the area, emphasis will be placed on factors such as technological changes and social and public policy currents, that may well alter the historical growth trends that will be delineated.

"The study," Miller said, "is expected to provide a solid foundation for planned action in the years ahead and not merely a static picture of the area as it now or as it is likely to be if no effort is made to improve the economic structure. In other words, a basic premise of this study is that people in the area want to take action to improve their economic position, and they want this action to be based on considered knowledge of the factors that mold their economic and cultural future."

WHILE pointing out that the study will provide the Electric Company with a basis for anticipating future demands for electrical energy in the area, Miller emphasized that it will have much broader value. "The study has been designed," he said, "to complement the continuing excellent efforts of many governmental agencies and private groups concerned with economic development in south-central Ohio. We hope it may provide an extra measure of foresight for community and regional planners, so that all of us may find new economic opportunities in the swift changes that are sure to come in the next 25 years."

Battelle economists and technologists will tap many existing sources for information and will conduct interviews throughout the area to generate new data. Their study will have three major phases.

First, the area will be evaluated in terms of natural factors, such as climate, topography, soils, minerals and water. Then the area will be examined in light of people and human enterprise, such as agriculture, mining, forestry, manufacturing, retail and wholesale trade, tourism, transportation, and other major industrial fields.

Second, the Battelle team will consider the impact of various forces on the area's economic structure. Economic forces to be analyzed will include transportation developments, market shifts, depletion of natural resources, technological change, foreign competition, and federal development programs.

The third phase of the study will be concerned with evaluating various courses of action that could contribute to the balanced economic and cultural growth. This evaluation will enable interested individuals and groups to take advantage of the area's growth possibilities.

The area under study is Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Company's service area in all or parts of 23 counties in central and southern Ohio.

He was first employed by the Ralston - Purina Co. December 2, 1936, at Circleville. He worked at various jobs throughout the plant until August, 1956, when he was transferred to the Richmond plant as order-credit manager.

MacFadden's Tally Takes Pony Crown

Dean MacFadden topped a field of 45 in the Pickaway Country Club Pony Tournament yesterday, posting a net score of 65 on a best-round 75 with a 10-stroke handicap.

Bill Weldon and Jim Price — both shooting with 26 handicaps — finished in a dead heat for second spot honors, carding gross 92's. Bruce McKinney, Tim Dickinson and Dick Heckert ended in a three-way deadlock for fourth place.

Bob MacFadden registered the best gross score of the tourney, a 73, and Bill Sibbick, Maynard Eaton, Ab Leach and Tom Eveland carded other low gross marks.

Tim Dickinson made the best shot of the day, a 90-yard wedge blast for an eagle two on the par-four No. 3 hole.

PRICE, shooting in the last three — some with Andy Anderson and Harry Sark was in the driver's seat after nine, with a torrid 43. He faded on the back nine with four double bogies and a triple bogey for a 49.

Harvie Davies had probably the most maddening trouble of the playoff, carding a 13 on the No. 5 hole when he couldn't get his ball back in the course bounds.

Walt Ehmling, playing with a 10-stroke handicap, was another early contender who ran out of gas on the back nine. He shot a par 36 in his opening round but recorded a 43 net on the back holes.

Erma Hedges fired a 47 to take top honors in a nine-hole women's flag tournament. Six surplus shots permitted her to go within 10 feet of the No. 11 cup. Marti Biscioti copped runnerup laurels who also got to the No. 11 but failed to come as close as Mrs. Hedges.

Mrs. Biscioti shot her best-ever round in the local layout with 51. Third position went to Dorothy Shadley who holed out on the 10th hole. Her 58 final marked the first time she had broken 60 on the PCC course.

Dottie Smith and Joanne Hawkes also had shots in the 10th hole.

New Owner At Greenhouse

The Walnut St. Greenhouse has a new owner and operator.

Mrs. Keith Wagner, 324 S. Washington St., announced today that the transfer became effective Saturday.

Mrs. Wagner purchased the greenhouse from Miss Alma Ebert, 226 Walnut St., who operated the business for the last 14 years.

The new owner is no newcomer to the greenhouse business. She said today, "I was practically raised in a greenhouse myself — my father owned one and I was in and out of it for almost 10 years."

MRS WAGNER also has had two years of experience in another local greenhouse, working with floral arrangements and performing other duties of the business.

Mrs. Wagner's husband, Keith, is the plant superintendent of the General Telephone Co., here. The Wagners have two children, Keitha and Max.

A grand opening of the greenhouse is planned for next month, according to Mrs. Wagner.

ANOTHER BIG REASON BEHIND THE BIG BOOM IN FORD SALES:

No other wagon can match Ford's features (or popularity!)

There's a whole wagonload of Ford features that only America's station wagon specialists can bring you.

First, there's more room. Ford's extended load deck is the longest and widest in its field. The tailgate opening is seven inches wider than last year, too.

There's more convenience. You can have an electrically controlled roll-down rear window in any Ford wagon... it's standard in all Country Squires and 9-Passenger Country Sedans. In their field, only Ford wagons have all seats facing forward.

There's more distinction. The Country Squire (shown above) is the one and only wagon in its field with body panels that look like mahogany, wear like steel.

There are more savings, too. Ford's Ranch Wagon is America's lowest-priced,* full-size wagon. And like all Fords, every Ford wagon is built to be more service-free: goes 30,000 miles between chassis lubrications, 4,000 miles between oil changes, brakes adjust automatically, mufflers are made to last three times as long as ordinary mufflers, and the finish never needs waxing.

Circleville Is 'Wonderful Town' Cincy Couple Says

A Cincinnati couple, enroute to Cleveland on vacation but delayed here Saturday due to an accident two miles east of Williamsport, today expressed thanks for hospitality received here.

A letter received by The Herald from Mr. and Mrs. William J. Carpenter, the couple involved in the accident. They expressed their appreciation for "the wonderful hospitality shown by the Mac Wise garage attendant, the sheriff's department, Berger Hospital staff, nurses and others."

The letter continued, "I would like everyone to know what a wonderful town Circleville is and how proud you must be to live in such a wonderful place. The services were rendered quickly without hesitation and with a smile."

Carpenter told Deputy Neal Childress following the accident Saturday, that he was blinded by the sun as his car went through a detour sign, skidded in some gravel and came to a stop in a ditch. The Carpenters suffered minor injuries.

2 Patrolmen Attacked In Cleveland Dispute

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Two patrolmen were injured Tuesday while investigating a disturbance on Euclid Street. They said they were attacked by members of a crowd of 2,000 Negroes that gathered when they arrived. Both were treated for minor cuts. Police fired tear gas to disperse the crowd. Several persons were arrested.
